

January 15, 2026

Position: Volunteer Communications Officer

Location: Remote (preferably Canada)

Type: Part-time (potential for full-time)

Reports to: Operations Manager

Application closes: January 30, 2026

About Us:

A national non-profit advocating for Palestinians' rights in Canada and abroad, combating anti-Palestinian racism and supporting justice-oriented initiatives.

Position Overview:

Seeking a Communications Officer to lead strategic communications efforts that enhance visibility, engage the public, and support advocacy and fundraising.

Key Responsibilities:

- Strategic Communications:
 - Create and implement an annual communications plan.
 - Support campaign launches with targeted messaging.
 - Develop key narratives reflecting organizational values.

- Content Creation & Digital Presence:
 - Manage content for social media, website, newsletters, and reports.
 - Collaborate with designers and content creators as needed.

Qualifications & Skills:

- Required:
 - 3+ years in communications or journalism.
 - Strong understanding of Palestinian identity and rights.
 - Knowledge of anti-racism frameworks.
 - Exceptional writing and editing skills.
 - Experience with crisis communication.
 - Proficiency in digital tools (e.g., Canva, Hootsuite).
- Preferred:
 - Experience in non-profits or advocacy.
 - Arabic language proficiency.
 - Knowledge of Palestinian legal and policy discourse.

What We Offer:

- Flexible remote work environment.
- Opportunity to influence the narrative around Palestine in Canada.
- Values-driven, justice-focused workplace.
- Professional development opportunities.

How to Apply:

Submit your CV, cover letter, and two writing samples to info@palcancongress.ca.

Applications from Palestinian, Arab, Black, Indigenous, and marginalized individuals are encouraged. Lived experience with the Palestinian cause is valued.

